TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE vii

PROGRAM OF THE CONFERENCE xvii

Part One

PRECISION — AN OVERVIEW

1. Marketing Precision and Executive Action 3
   William F. O'Dell

A. NATIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

2. National Aims and Business Responsibility 11
   Raymond C. Firestone

3. An Economic Weapons System 19
   Ray R. Eppert

4. Ethics, Legality and Profitability
   a. Panel: Thomas M. Garrett 29
   b. Albert Shepard 31

B. THE INTERNATIONAL CHALLENGE

5. New Prospects for American Business Abroad 41
   Edwin A. Locke

6. Competing in the Durable Goods Market: The Challenge of Europe 49
   Malcolm P. Ferguson

7. U.S. Trade Policy after the Trade Bill 62
   Carl Gilbert

Part Two

PRECISION IN THE BASIC MANAGEMENT FUNCTIONS

A. PROFITS, THE OBJECTIVE

8. The Nature of the Involvement of Marketing Management and Profit Failure 75
   John B. McKitterick

XUM

9. Management Action: A Case Study in Profit Therapy 89
Warren C. Hume

B. PLANNING AND DECISION MAKING

10. The Problem of Lead Time in Long-Range Planning 97
Richard M. Alt

11. Task Force Long-Range Planning: Review of a Depth Study 104
John Livingston

12. The Systems Concept in the Evolution of Marketing Management Thought 115
William Lazer

13. Distribution Systems Management Key to Profits in the Sixties 121
W. Clayton Hill

14. The Do-It-Yourself Marketing Information System or An Innocent Abroad in the Land of Or 139
Blaine Cooke

15. Simulation of the Packaged Detergent Industry 152
Doyle L. Weiss

16. Heuristic Programming: A Useful Technique for Marketing 162
Alfred A. Kuehn

C. ORGANIZING AND ORGANIZATION

17. Innovations and Changes in Organization Planning 173
Charles E. St. Thomas

18. The Marketing Function and New Concepts of Organization Structure (Is Line-Staff Obsolete?) 184
Gerald E. Fisch

19. Criteria for Judging Organizational Effectiveness 205
Harrison M. Rainie, Jr.

20. The Need for New Concepts in Marketing Organization 215
Dilworth H. Walker

21. Change as a General Problem of Management 223
James C. Worthy

22. The Special Problem of Change at Operation Levels of Management 229
Donald C. Livingston

Part Three

PRECISION IN MARKETING FUNCTIONS

A. FORECASTING AND ESTABLISHING POTENTIALS

23. A Computer Technique for Time Series Forecasting 239
Robert L. McLaughlin

24. The Three C's of Sales Forecasting 248
David J. McCarty

25. Directories and Census Data in Establishing New Product Potentials or First Things First 257
Hugh Britton

26. Principles and Techniques in Establishing Potentials for New Industrial Products 267
Francis E. Hummel

27. Successful Penetration of an Established Market by a New Competitor 279
Marion E. Shank

28. Uncovering New Markets for a Dying Industrial Product 285
Nathaniel R. Kidder

B. PACKAGING

29. Good Packaging is Informative 293
R. Allan Hickman

30. An Academician's Point of View about Deceptive Packaging 299
James W. Goff

31. Good Designs Don't Deceive 303
Robert Sidney Dickens

32. Most Packaging Changes are Beneficial - Not Deceptive 306
Robert Addis

33. Interdisciplinary Packaging Research for Marketing Effectiveness 310
Niles G. Foss

34. The Supplier View of Packaging Research for Marketing Effectiveness 312
Ross Wilcox

35. The Product Manufacturer View of Packaging Research for Marketing Effectiveness 317
Carl D. Schoby

XUM

36. The Mail Order Merchandiser's View of Packaging Research for Marketing Effectiveness 325
Joseph F. Carrigan

C. PRICING

37. Use and Applications of Price Indexes by Industry 333
John M. Firestone

38. Pricing Strategy for the Steel Industry in Meeting Foreign Competition 340
John Davine

D. PRODUCT MANAGEMENT

39. Product Management and Its Challenge to General Organization Concepts 369
William S. Callander

40. Special Problems of Product Management in Industrial Markets 376
Edward S. McKay

41. Product Management from the Agency Point of View 383
Edgar M. Griswold

42. Basic Patterns of New Product Strategy 387
Michael J. O'Connor

E. SALES AND ADVERTISING

43. Measuring the Value of Advertising in Our Society 399
Norman H. Strouse

44. Measuring Advertising's Value in Changing Product Preferences 411
Sherwood Dodge

45. Measuring Advertising's Value to Company Objectives 417
Richard F. Casey

46. The Application of Perception Psychology to Marketing 430
Clark Leavitt

47. Tight and Loose Thinking about "Unconscious Processes" 438
Frank Auld, Jr.

48. Motivation Begins with "Y" 444
Lucien A. Cohen

49. Management's Responsibility to Salesmen 451
Fred Smith

XUM

F. DISTRIBUTION ANALYSIS AND LOGISTICS

50. Logistic Support in Distribution for Effective Market Programming 463
E. C. R. Lasher

51. Distribution Programming — The Customer-Client Concept 467
Eugene Landis

52. Organizational Structures for Effective Distribution Programming - Case Studies 473
Warren Blanding

53. Discussion (of previous three papers) 483
Edward W. Smykay

Part Four

PRECISION — INDUSTRY CONSIDERATIONS

A. THE DEFENSE MARKET

54. Measuring and Selling the Defense Market 487
W. Earl Trantham, Jr.

55. Increasing the Efficiency of Procurement Agencies (DOD's Progress and Plans) 492
Robert D. Lyons

56. The Changing Nature of Defense Markets 501
Kenneth L. Baker

57. Marketing in the Defense Business 508
Gerald A. Busch

58. An Economic Analysis of Future Defense Market Trends 517
Harry L. Williams

B. MARKETING CONCEPTS OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS AND RESEARCH

59. Industrial Development as a Marketing Problem 523
Donald E. Lodge

60. Selecting Speculative Products for Market Research and Industrial Development 528
Richard E. O'Brien

61. The Impact of Change on Industrial Development 538
Cyril C. Herrmann

XUM

C. RETAILING

62. Corporate Growth through Accelerated Distribution Systems 551
George H. Struthers

63. Independents, Voluntary Leadership, and the Velocity Challenge 556
Russell W. Byerly

64. How a Uniquely Canadian Perspective Provides New Insights for Mass Merchandising 566
Samuel Steinberg

65. The Interaction of Consumer Behavior and Market Competition on the Store of the Future 571
Robert D. Entenberg

66. Research is Vital - But Application Is the Payoff 580
Benjamin Engel

67. The Rise of Consumership 604
Nelson Foote

68. Changes in Retailing and Wholesaling to Match Changes in Farming 612
George H. Seferovich

D. MARKETING SERVICES

69. Creating a Concept and Developing an Industry 635
Jack S. Petterson

70. Marketing Insurance Creatively 642
Joseph W. Ehrenreich

71. GET Marketing - Key to Industry Growth 648
Martin R. Warshaw

INDEX OF AUTHORS

Author Index 657